BAPTISMS

Welcome to the newest members born to new life in Christ through the Holy Waters of Baptism. Liliana Fisher, daughter of Chris and Robin; Andres Serna Rivas, son of Salvador and Maria; Esmeralda and Emiliano Burciaga, children of Roman and Samantha were baptized last weekend. May they be blessed throughout their lives and be guided by the Holy Spirit.

ST. REGIS STEWARDSHIP CORNER

Today's readings focus on the personal, passionate, and merciful love of God which should fill us with unending gratitude to Him. This gratitude is the fuel, if you will, that keeps the stewardship way of life rolling along.

In our Second Reading, from St. Paul's letter to Timothy, we find a grateful Paul who says of himself, "I was once a blasphemer and a persecutor and arrogant, but I have been mercifully treated." St. Paul is well aware of the sins he has committed. But this does not hold him back from ministry. Rather, it makes him all the more grateful to be God's steward. How encouraging to know that this is true for us as well. Our past sins, and even our present struggles, do not disqualify us from becoming God's grateful stewards.

Las lecturas de hoy se centran en el amor personal, apasionado y misericordioso de Dios que debe llenarnos de gratitud interminable hacia Él. Esta gratitud es el combustible, si se quiere, que mantiene la forma de vida de mayordomía rodando.

En nuestra segunda lectura, de la carta de San Pablo a Timoteo, encontramos a un Pablo agradecido que dice de sí mismo: "Una vez fui un blasfemo, un perseguidor y arrogante, pero he sido tratado misericordiosamente". San Pablo es muy consciente de los pecados que ha cometido. Pero esto no lo detiene del ministerio. Más bien, lo hace aún más agradecido de ser el mayordomo de Dios. Qué alentador saber que esto también es cierto para nosotros. Nuestros pecados pasados, e incluso nuestras luchas presentes, no nos descalifican para convertirnos en los mayordomos agradecidos de Dios.

ATTENTION

If you have any keys to St. Regis facilities please call Colleen in the Parish Office, 816-761-1608. We are taking an inventory of who has what keys and what they are used for. Thank you.

5 Action Steps for Helping Someone in Emotional Pain

Suicide is a major public health concern and a leading cause of death in the United States. Suicide affects people of all ages, genders, races, and ethnicities. Suicide is complicated and tragic, but it can be preventable. Knowing the warning signs for suicide and how to get help can help save lives.

Here are 5 steps you can take to #BeThe1to help someone in emotional pain:

1. ASK:
"Are you thinking about killing yourself?" It's not an easy question but studies show that asking at-risk individuals if they are suicidal does not increase suicides or suicidal thoughts.

2. KEEP THEM SAFE:
Reducing a suicidal person's access to highly lethal items or places is an important part of suicide prevention. While this is not always easy, asking if the at-risk person has a plan and removing or disabling the lethal means can make a difference.

3. BE THERE:
Listen carefully and learn what the individual is thinking and feeling. Research suggests acknowledging and talking about suicide may in fact reduce rather than increase suicidal thoughts.

4. HELP THEM CONNECT:
Save the 988 Suicide & Crisis Lifeline number (call or text 988) and the Crisis Text Line number (741741) in your phone so they're there if you need them. You can also help make a connection with a trusted individual like a family member, friend, spiritual advisor, or mental health professional.

5. STAY CONNECTED:
Staying in touch after a crisis or after being discharged from care can make a difference. Studies have shown the number of suicide deaths goes down when someone follows up with the at-risk person.

5 medidas que puede tomar para ayudar a una persona con dolor emocional

El suicidio es un problema importante de salud pública y una de las principales causas de muerte en los Estados Unidos. El suicidio afecta a personas de todas las edades, géneros, razas y etnias.

El suicidio es complicado y trágico, pero puede evitarse. Saber cuáles son las señales de advertencia del suicidio y dónde obtener ayuda puede servir para salvar vidas.

A continuación, planteamos 5 medidas que puede seguir para ayudar a una persona con dolor emocional:

1. PREGUNTE:
"¿Estás pensando en suicidarte?" No es una pregunta fácil de hacer, pero los estudios muestran que preguntar a las personas en riesgo si tienen pensamientos o deseos de morir o de matarse no aumenta los suicidios ni los pensamientos suicidas.

2. MANTÉNGALA A SALVO:
Reducir el acceso de la persona suicida a ciertos objetos o lugares sumamente letales es parte esencial de la prevención del suicidio. Si bien hacer esto no es fácil, preguntarle a la persona en riesgo si tiene algún plan y desactivar o eliminar cualquier medio letal puede marcar la diferencia.

3. ESTÉ PRESENTE:
Escuche atentamente para enterarse de lo que la persona en riesgo está pensando y sintiendo. De hecho, las investigaciones sugieren que reconocer y hablar sobre el suicidio puede reducir los pensamientos suicidas en lugar de aumentarlos.

4. AYÚDELA A ESTABLECER UNA CONEXIÓN:
Guarda el número de la Red Nacional de Prevención del Suicidio (1-888-628-9545) y la línea de crisis para mensajes de texto (741741) en su teléfono celular para que lo tenga a mano cuando lo necesite. Usted también puede ayudar a la persona suicida a establecer una conexión con una persona de confianza, como un miembro de la familia, un amigo, un asesor espiritual o un profesional de la salud mental.

5. MANTÉNGASE COMUNICADO:
Manténgase en contacto con la persona después de que tuvo una crisis o después de haber sido dada de alta de su tratamiento puede marcar la diferencia. Los estudios han demostrado que el número de muertes por suicidio disminuye cuando alguien da seguimiento con la persona en riesgo.
